Rigid - Checking this box indicates that the pastor prefers and uses only that particular worship form.

Flexible - Checking this box indicates that the pastor prefers or uses this particular worship form, but is open and flexible in regard to other forms.

Traditional - Makes regular use of worship forms and hymns from doctrinally pure hymnals, and conducts worship in a historically traditional manner.

High Liturgical - Uses traditional forms of worship and hymns as noted above, but also includes chanting; may use additional vestments and formal attire; and, may add additional worship aides or appointments. Conducts worship in a very formal and set manner.

Contemporary – May write own liturgies or uses creative and variable worship forms; uses less formal attire and practice than is traditional; and, generally conducts worship in a less formal and structured manner.

18. Theological Position

Check the appropriate box. The scale describes the pastor's doctrine and practice in this way: A mark in the center box (3) indicates a pastor who evangelically follows the synodical position in doctrine and practice. A mark to the right (4) or left (2) of the center box indicates that the pastor is more conservative or liberal, but in such a way as not to be a problem. A mark in the far right (5) or left (1) indicates that the pastor is very conservative to the point of creating problems in a congregation or District or both, or is very liberal and has caused problems in the congregation or District or both. If there is an inconsistency between the pastor's doctrine and his practice, this should be described under "ADDITIONAL INFORMATION AND REMARKS" on page 4 of the Pastor's Information Form (PIF).

19. Any Reason or Desire to Move

Check the appropriate box, and make comments as necessary.

20. Pastor's Marital Status

21. Additional Information on Wife

22. Criteria for Completing the PROFILE Section

In reviewing information on pastors and comparing their personal skills, abilities, interests, strengths, weaknesses, and the like, it is important to keep in mind the requirements and expectations that God clearly lays down in His Word for men in the office of the pastoral ministry (i.e., I Timothy 3:1-7 and Titus 1:7-9). The Pastor is to oversee the flock of God, which he is called to serve by God, through the congregation. He is to feed the flock and lead it. He is to protect the flock and care for it. He is to equip God's people for the work of living the faith and serving Christ and each other. And, he is to be an example in his own life for them to follow.

In the following categories of skills, abilities, and attitudes, the ratings to be used are the following:

"Outstanding" (5) = The pastor is very skilled in the category, has highly developed abilities in this area, and comports himself in an exemplary manner.

- “Very Good” (4) = The pastor is skilled and accomplished and is above average in abilities in this area.
- “Good” (3) = The pastor is average in his abilities in this area, and is neither deficient, nor highly skilled. He is adequate in ability (competent) in the category for most congregations.
- “Fair” (2) = The pastor is below average in his abilities in the category, and a bit deficient in his skills in the area. He would need some understanding and assistance from the congregation in the particular category.
- “Poor” (1) = The pastor is very much below average in his abilities in the category, and this lack in the area represents a real deficiency in abilities. And, this represents a real deficiency for him in this area.

Please be decisive, and place a whole number to the right of each item.

PROFILE DEFINITIONS
